

Sea-Beasties ID Guide

Here are some general zooplankton that you might come across. They might be different sizes, colors, or even slightly different shapes. You will likely come across some that are not featured here, as there are millions of different kinds of plankton. Be sure to take lots of pictures! Bonus points for any coral larvae found ☺

Below are the links to some more detailed online identification guides:

University of New Hampshire: <https://tinyurl.com/jg4b5xx>

Marine Biological Association: <https://tinyurl.com/hcns34x> ; <https://tinyurl.com/zusp7fs> ; <https://tinyurl.com/z2rtsa5>

Coral Larva

Rotifer

Amphipod

Copepod

Crab Larva

Crab Larva

Nauplius (Crustacean Larva)

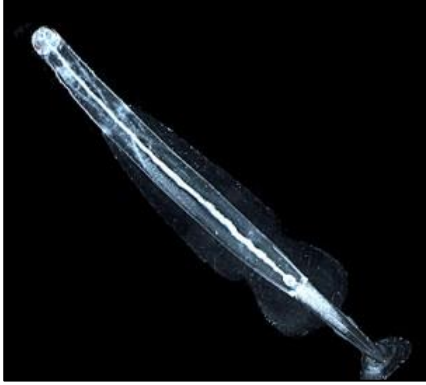

Mussel Larvae

Fish Larva

Pluteus (Sea star and sea urchin larva)

Arrow Worm